NO NEW ONES ARE REPORTED TODAY

Two Canvassing Teams For Chamber of Commerce Were to Start
Out Late This Afternoon.

FIRST NAMES ARE REPORTED

Little Opposition But Trouble Lies in Finding Men Who Are Willing

The list of the names of the Chamber of Commerce members
which have been reported will
be found on page 4.

It required some time today to get
reorganized on the Chamber of Commerce campaign for members after
the week end stop and no canvassing
teams could start before four o'clock this afternoon, and for this reason there were no new members
to report today.

Two teams were to go to work
this afternoon at four o'clock which
should insure a favorable report for tomorrow. There are approximately a hundred prospective members in
the business district who have never
even been seen yet in regard to the organization.

In addition to those, none of the
manufacturers in the outside districts have been called on by canvassers. An automobile party of canvassers is being organized for
the purpose of giving these men an opportunity to join.

The success of the movement
seems to be assured because little opposition has been met with where-ever the canvassers have called. The principal trouble is in finding men,
who are willing to sacrifice some time to call on men who have not
yet signed an application pledge.

There was only a small crowd at
the noon lunch today, but there are a number who have pledged to come
and work tomorrow afternoon. A number of professional men have
entered heartily into the movement
and there are many others who have been reported to be in accord with
it, but who have never been seen by
canvassers with application pledges.

The names which are published
today are not the only ones which
have been added to the membership.
There are several which have been reported but which have never been turned in.

CHAPTER MEETING.

Rush Chapter, No. 24, R.
A. M. will hold their regular meeting tonight. The new officers will be installed. A good attendance is desired.

TAKEN TO MADISON ASYLUM

Horace Hilligoss Now Inmate of
That Institution.

Deputy Sheriff Sullivan, accompanied by Will King, took Horace Hilligoss, who recently became insane in Chicago and was brought
here to the Madison asylum yesterday. Hilligoss was placed in jail
here one week ago today after he
had terrorized the residents of the northern part of the city. He was declared insane by a commission
and the papers receiving him to the Madison asylum were received Saturday. No trouble was had in getting him to the asylum. Hilligoss believes he is in a large hotel and likes the place.

HEARING WILL BEGIN TUESDAY

Arbitration of Grievances of I. &
C. Trainmen Will be Taken up
by State Commission.

DATE SET SOME TIME AGO

The hearing to settle the dispute
between the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company and its train-
men will be started before the Indiana public service commission in Indianapolis Tuesday. This date
was set some time ago and preparation has been made by both the
company and the men to present
their side of the case.

It will be recalled that when the street car strike broke out in Indianapolis, the interurban men all stuck by their posts. The I & C.
trainmen waited on Charles L.
Henry, president of the I. & C., and
he agreed to arbitration of grievances before the public service commission. The grievances were later withdrawn because it was felt that
the differences could be settled without presenting the matter to the state commission. After some discussion, it was found that all the
differences could be arranged satisfactorily for both parties to the discussion with the exception of the matter of wages and the question
was again submitted to the commission.

COMMISSIONERS MEET.

The county commissioners met today in the first session of the February term. A few claims were allowed and the bond of Benjamin W.
Black of Washington township,
deputy highway superintendent was approved. Mr. Black is the first
deputy to be appointed under J. C.
King, the superintendent. The commissioners will let some road contracts tomorrow.

FEBRUARY TERM STARTED TODAY

Action Taken in Several Cases on
First Day of New Term.—
Grand Jury Charged.

HEASTON RECEIVED $17.20

Oldest Case on Docket Officially Dismissed When Similar One Was Compromised.

The February term of the circuit court opened this morning and the court room was busy for the first
few hours. There were no cases set
for trial and the time was taken up
with the reading of the dockets.
Many papers were filed in several
suits.

The case of the Art Stove company against J. E. Patton and Curtis Thrall, doing business under the name of Patton and Thrall, on a
note demanding $175 was dismissed
by the plaintiff company and the
costs paid. Charles A. Frazee, receiver for A. P. Walker filed an inventory appraisal of the property
which was approved by the court.

The case of Edna J. King against
Ralph King for contempt, was dismissed this morning by Mrs. King.
It will be remembered that King,
whose home is in Connerville, attempted to commit suicide several weeks ago following his appearance
here before Judge Megee on the charge. He was released under $200 bond and was to have appeared here the last term but was unable to come. Mrs. King was granted a divorce and given an allowance but
it was alleged that he never paid
the amount according to the order
of the court and the contempt proceeding were brought.

Clement L. Heaston was given
judgment against Mary G. Jones
and Morris Winship for $17.20 and $15 attorney fees. The case was on an account and to foreclose a mechanics lien. The case was heard
last term of court by Judge Megee
and taken under advisement. His decision was given this morning. He stated that the evidence showed that Heaston had only $17.20 and his attorney was allowed $15. Heaston
demanded $60.

The case of Claten Mathews, by his next friend Edward Matthews against the C. C. C. & St. L. railway, demanding damage in the sum
of $15,000 was dismissed. The case
was dismissed some time ago but the
entry was not made until this morning. It should have been taken off
at the time the case of Edward Mathews, as guardian, against the railway company, was settled for $750. The case has been on the docket since Aug. 29, 1905, and was
the oldest case remaining.

The grand jury reported for duty
this morning and was instructed

Minister Says Work of Organizing
Chamber of Commerce is Similar to Bible Story.

NEEDS BE A UNITED PEOPLE

Story of Nehemiah Brought Down to Present Day by Rev. Meacham
in Sermon Yesterday.

The effort that is at present being
made in this city to organize a Chamber of Commerce was compared
to the building of the wall of Jerusalem, Sunday morning, in a sermon at the First Presbyterian church, by the Rev. J. B. Meacham,
when he spoke on "A Fortified City."
It was a timely subject and the work
of Nehemiah and his followers in building the great wall applied to the present condition in Rushville.

Nehemiah was a cupbearer to the king of Babylon. He was a captive
Jew, and his heart went back to his home town and church. He heard
that the remnant of the captivity
who were left in Jerusalem were in great affliction and reproach because
of the enemy, who had torn down
the wall and broken down the gates
and destroyed them with fire, leaving
the city without defense. According to the Bible story, Nehemiah was
given permission to go to Jerusalem
and rebuild the wall. He gathered
about him a small company of men
and called into action those who
were still alive, and those of the surrounding towns and country, to help on the walls for making a larger, a better and more prosperous
town.

The response to service was answered by men from all walks of life.
Among those who worked for the defense of Jerusalem were the
priests, preachers, goldsmiths, druggists, manufacturers, merchants,
gate-keepers, porters, women, politicians and government officials.

"So it is with our city," said the
Rev. Mr. Meacham, "the Chamber of Commerce being formed here should
be backed up by every loyal citizen
who desires to see a bigger, a better
and cleaner Rushville. Each man
was assigned work to do on the walls of Jerusalem that he was best
fitted to do. Some repairing doors,
some laying beams, others mending
the locks, some mixing mortar, others laying brick, and some cutting
stone.

"Every working party was assigned the task nearest to his home, that
he might help in the building of the
city wall and at the same time carry
on his own business as opportunity
afforded. It was a time when men
of the city and men of the country
put their shoulders to the wheel—
men of the factory, men of different
trades and business, professions and callings lent a helping hand for the defense of their city.

"There were a few shirkers. It is said that 'the nobles of Tekoah put
not their necks to the work of their Lord.' There was also opposition
from the enemy round about. The Arabians were very wroth when they saw the old walls going up. They even went so far as to fight against
Jerusalem and hinder the work.
Some were discouraged at the heavy
task. Judah said, 'the strength of
the bearers of burdens is decayed,
and there is much rubbish, so that we are not able to build the wall.' In other words, 'it can't be done.'

"But Nehemiah and his men were
able to meet the enemy and the ob-
jectors in these words, 'nevertheless
we made our prayer unto our God
and set a watch against them day
and night.' 'Everyone had his sword

girded by his side and so rebuilt.'
"The result was that the wall was built and joined together without a
breach in it anywhere, and was dedicated for the reason that the people
had a mind to work. What was true
of Jerusalem may be true of every
city, of Rushville, with a united
people—preachers, merchants,
Chamber of Commerce, workingmen,
dwellers in the country and dwellers
in the city all united for a better
town with a larger business and

Israel W. Martin, 93 Years Old, Expires at His Home Here After Short Illness.

IS VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR

Israel W. Martin, 93 years old, a well known resident of this city died
this afternoon at 1:25 o'clock at his home in Buena Vista Avenue. Mr.
Martin had been ill only about one
week and because of his advanced
age death was expected. His death
was due to senility. Mr. Martin was probably the oldest man in this city
if not in the county. He was born
in Lancaster, Ohio, December 1, 1820 and moved here in 1880, living
here ever since.

He served in the Civil War enlist-
ing in Company K, Fourteenth Ohio
Infantry. After serving two years
he was discharged because of injuries. His wife died several years ago. He is survived by seven children as follows: Miss Clara Martin,
Mrs. Berancy Sears, Mrs. P. J.
Reehling of Alexandria, Ind., Mrs.
Ellen Belford of Pendleton, Mrs. T.
D. Neal of Chicago, Benton Martin
of Lapel, Frank Martin of Elkhart county.

The funeral arrangements have

Petition is Filed by Jacob Feudner
and Court Appoints Farmers
Trust Company.

INDEBTED IN SUM OF $7,500

Alleging that the Rushville
Creamery company is indebted in
the sum of $7,500 and is insolvent,
Jacob Feudner, through his attorney John H. Kiplinger, this afternoon filed suit asking that a receiver
be appointed. The petition was heard by Judge Megee and the Farmers Trust company was appointed
receiver for the corporation. A. B.
Irvin appeared for the defendant
company and admitted that the allegations of the complaint were true.

It was alleged in the complaint
that the creamery company has no
means of meeting its indebtedness,
which totals $7,500. Mr. Feudner is
a stockholder in the creamery which is a corporation under the laws of Indiana. It is stated that the creamery has milk and cream on
hands at present and that in order
that these may be turned into money, the receiver will continue to operate the business. The creamery
was organized about a year ago and
the stock is owned by local men. The company purchased the property,
formerly used for a machine shop
near the C. H. & D. passenger depot and the receivership came as a surprise as it was thought that it
was doing a good business.

OVER 6,000 AT CHURCH SUNDAY

Largest General Attendance at All
of the Houses of Worship in Rushville Ever Recorded.

"CHURCH - GOING" SUNDAY

Ministers and Workers Are Gratified Over the Results Obtained by Their Efforts.

Approximately six thousand persons attended church in Rushville
yesterday, "Church-going" Sunday.
This is generally estimated the largest general attendance in the churches here in the history of the city. The ministers and workers
were very much gratified over the results of the special efforts to get people to renew their affiliations
with the church.

The Main Street Christian church
had a total attendance of 2,046 persons at all three services. At the Bible school there were 657, at the morning church service 759 and at
the evening hour of worship 630.

The attendance at the St. Mary's Catholic church was estimated at fifteen hundred persons. No count
was made there at the various services.

At the St. Paul M. E. church
there was a total attendance at the three services of 1,156. The number at the Bible school was counted
at 388 and the morning church service attendance was 489. The evening hour of worship brought out 279.
There were 89 in Will M. Sparks'
men's Bible class.

The count at the first Presbyterian church showed a total of 608 at the three services yesterday. At the Bible school there were 208, at the morning service there were 300 and at
the evening hour of worship 100.

The total attendance at the three
services at the United Presbyterian
church was 508, divided as follows:
Bible school, 168, morning, 175 and
evening 165.

At the three services at the First Baptist church an attendance of 325
was recorded.

The Great Home Month In the Stores

Merchandising custom has made February the great
"Home Month."

Read the advertising of the merchants these days in the
live daily newspapers like The Daily Republican and you will
see how vigorously the stores
are pressing their offerings of
goods that have to do with the
furnishing of the home.

Wise homemakers have long since learned the advantage of
planning their purchasing
along with the tides of the season. It is the policy of
"taking advantage of the market" applied to domestic affairs.

Every member of the family
—big or little, is interested in the home. So at no season of the year is advertising of greater importance than right
now.

Those who follow the mercantile announcements in
their daily newspapers will be
certain to buy to greater advantage than those who merely
shop in a haphazard manner.

WORK ROADS IN SPRING OF YEAR

Advice of United States Department of Agriculture Because Ground is Soft Then.

VALUE OF SPLIT-LOG DRAG

It is Destined to Come Into More and More General Use Because of Cheapness.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Washington, D. C. Feb. 2.—It is a great mistake to put off working roads until August or September, according to road experts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The roads should be worked when the soil is damp so as to make the soil bake when it dries out. If the roads are worked when they are dry, it takes more power to draw the machine and besides dry earth and dust retain moisture and quickly rot after rains. The use of clods, sods, weeds or vegetable matter in building earth roads should be avoided because they also retain moisture.

If the working of the roads is deferred until the latter part of the summer when the surface is baked dry and hard, they are not only difficult to work, but the work is unsatisfactory when done. Earth which is loose and dry will remain dusty as long as the dry weather lasts, and then turn to mud as the rains begin. By using the road machine in the spring while the soil is soft and damp, the surface is more easily shaped and soon packs down into a dry hard crust which is less liable to become dusty in summer and muddy in winter.

Repairs to roads should be made when needed and not once a year after crops are laid by. Because of its simplicity, efficiency, and cheapness, the split-log drag or some similar device is destined to come into more and more general use. With the drag properly built and its use well understood, the maintenance of earth and gravel roads become a simple and inexpensive matter. Care should be taken to make the log so light that one man can lift it with ease, as a light drag can be drawn by two medium sized horses and responds more readily to various methods of hitching and the shifting position of the operator than a heavier one. The best material for the drag is a dry cedar log, though elm, walnut, box elder or soft maple are excellent. Oak, hickory or ash are too heavy. The log should be from seven to ten feet long, and from eight to ten inches in diameter. It should be split carefully as near the center as possible and the heaviest and best slab chosen for the front. When the soil is moist, but not sticky, the drag does the best work. As the soil in the field will bake if plowed wet, so the road will bake if drag is used on it when it is wet. If the road-day is full of holes or badly rutted the drag should be used once when the road is soft and slushy.

The earth road can best be crowned and ditched with a road machine and not with picks and shovels, scoops, and plows. One road machine with a suitable power and operator will do the work of many men with picks and shovels, and in addition will do it better. If the road is composed of fine clay or soil it will sometimes pay to resurface it with top soil from an adjacent field, which has sand or gravel mixed with it. This method, called the "top soil method," is now unsuccessful in Clarke County, Georgia.

Storm water should be disposed of quickly before it has had time to penetrate deeply into the surface of the road. This can be done by giving the road a crown or slope from the center to the sides. For an earth road which is 24 feet wide the center should be not less than 6 inches nor more than 12 inches higher than the outer edges of the shoulder. The narrow road which is high in the middle will become rutted almost as quickly as one which is too flat, for the reason that on a narrow road all the traffic is forced to use only a narrow strip. Shoulders are often formed on both sides of the road, which prevents storm water from flowing into the side ditches, retaining it in the ruts and softening the roadway. These ruts and shoulders can be entirely eliminated with the road machine or split-log drag.

The width of the earth road will depend on the traffic. As a rule, 25 or 30 feet from ditch to ditch is sufficient if the road is properly crowned. Ordinarily the only ditches needed are those made with the road machine which are wide and shallow. Deep narrow ditches wash rapidly, especially on steep slopes. The earth road should not be loosened, dug up, or plowed up any more than is absolutely necessary. It should be gradually raised, not lowered; hardened, nor softened.

PETITION FOR DRAIN.

Notice of Filing and Docketing.

State of Indiana, Rush County ss.

Rush Circuit Court

February Term 1914

Ex Parte—James W. Anderson, et al:

Drain.
To Mary L. Dale, Ella Gavin, James Fisher, John B. Harrison, John W. Davis, John E. Harrison and Celista Harrison. John Kinnett as trustee, Anderson township.

You and each of you are hereby notified that the undersigned have filed in the office of the Clerk of the Rush Circuit Court, a petition asking for the drainage of the following described real estate in said County and State, to-wit:

Eighty (80) acres in the northeast quarter of section sixteen (16) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, being the amount left after twenty (20) acres is taken off of the south side of said quarter section, and twenty-four (24) acres is taken off of the east end of the west end of said Section owned in fee simple, one-third each by James W. Anderson, Mary E. Anderson and Lyle H. Anderson, as joint tenants. Also the north half and the south half of the east half of the Southeast quarter of Section eight (8) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, owned by Ephriam Buell.

Also the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter and the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of Section sixteen (16) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, and the west half of twenty (20) acres off of the west end of said Section owned in fee simple, one-third each by James W. Anderson, Mary E. Anderson and Lyle H. Anderson, as joint tenants. Also the north half and the south half of the east half of the Southeast quarter of Section eight (8) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, owned by Ephriam Buell.

It is believed that said drainage can be best and most cheaply accomplished by a ditch and drain beginning ten (10) rods east of the northwest corner of the east half of the southeast quarter of section sixteen (16) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east on the land owned by Ella Gavin, thence in a northwesterly direction onto and across the lands owned by the petitioners herein, James W. and Mary E. Anderson and Lyle H. Anderson to the land of John B. Harrison as described herein, and thence across said land in a general northwesterly direction onto the lands of John H. McCorkle and across said land in a general northwesterly direction to and across the lands of Wilroy and Andersonville Gravel Road, in Anderson township, said county where it intersects and connects with an open drain on the lands of John E. Harrison and Celista Harrison as described herein, thence following as near as practicable said open drain across the lands of said Harrison onto and across the land of Mary L. Dale as described herein, near to and following said open drain to where it crosses a highway running north and south between sections eight (8) and nine (9) in township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, in said Anderson township, and across highway upon said open drain on over and across the lands of Ephriam Buell, as described herein, to where said open drain empties into Lick Creek on the lands of said Buell.

That said drainage can be best accomplished by using drain tile from the terminus of said drain to its beginning from twelve (12) to sixteen (16) inches in diameter, and that such drain if accomplished will effect the following described tracts of land other than the lands of the petitioners herein, to-wit: The North half of the West half of the Southwest quarter of Section nine (9) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east owned by John W. Davis.

The South half of the West half of the Southwest quarter of section nine (9) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east owned by Mary L. Dale. The North half of the South half of the East half of the Southwest quarter of Section nine (9) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, each half owned by John E. and Celista Harrison.

Forty acres off of the west end of the Northeast quarter of section sixteen (16) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east after twenty (20) acres have been taken off the entire south side of said quarter (¼) of the following: Commencing at the Northwest corner of the Northwest quarter (¼) of section fifteen (15) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, thence east 70 rods and 4 links, thence south so far as it will take to make forty (40) acres leaving the south line beginning. Also, commencing forty-eight (48) rods and fourteen (14) links north of the southwest corner of the Northwest quarter (¼) of Section fifteen (15) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, thence east 70 rods and 4 links, thence north to the land heretofore deeded to Rebecca Miller, thence west 70 rods and 4 links to the said quarter section line, containing in the tract of land described in all seventy-five (75) acres, the thirty (30) acres to be off the south end of the seventy-five (75) acre tract owned by James Fisher.

You are hereby notified that said petition will be docketed for hearing in said Court on the 24th day of February, 1914.

Dated this 2d day of February, 1914.

THRILLING INCIDENT OF WRECK AT SEA

Rocks Near Falmouth Claim
Nineteen Victims.

London, Feb. 2.—In a gale near Falmouth the German bark Hera went on the rocks and nineteen of the crew were drowned. The Hera missed Falmouth in the intense darkness and thick weather, and hit Gull Rock. The bark sent up rockets and the Falmouth lighthouse launched a life boat and started in a tremendous sea to look for the vessel. The bark could not be located for several hours. In the meantime the Hera had heeled over and twenty-one of the twenty-four members of the crew embarked in a boat which soon capsized and only five regained the ship, which already had two feet of water on her deck. The bark suddenly heeled until the mast was almost horizontal. The eight survivors climbed to the topmast and clung there with the waves constantly sweeping over them.

The mate, who was in the lowest position and was lashed to the mast, was drowned by the rising tide. Before he died he passed his whistle, which he had been blowing as the only distress signal, to the man above him. This seaman blew the whistle until he was engulfed in the same way as the mate, when he passed it on to the third man. This man met the same fate, but before he was engulfed passed the whistle to the next man above him. The fourth man was already waist deep in the water when the lifeboat heard the whistle and rescued the five men.

John H. Rogers of Jefferson county will move to the Alva Eakins farm, north of the city. It is planned to raise a large amount of tobacco.

ANNIVERSARY

Main Street Christian Church Observes Day With Special Programs at All Services.

Superintendent and Members of First School Take Part in the Services Sunday.

Sunday was a day of reminiscences at the Main Street Christian church because it marked the 20th anniversary of the dedication of the church. Special programs were carried out at all services during the day.

When the Bible school convened, Hugh Mauzy, the superintendent, called on all of the persons in the congregation who were members of the school twenty years ago to stand. There were only a few as the ranks had been thinned in the fifth of a century.

When the classes re-assembled, the superintendent commented on the debt of the present school to the first one, which was small compared to the attendance yesterday. The crowd numbered six hundred and three and the collection was $17.26.

Superintendent Mauzy introduced a member of that school twenty years ago, Mrs. Derby Green, who sang a solo. John A. Spurrier the first superintendent of the Main Street Christian school, made a reminiscent talk concerning the school and the advance it had made. He said that the day the church was dedicated about the largest crowd he had ever seen was present. He recalled the progress that the school had made. Jess Pugh was on the program for a reading, but was unable to appear. William M. Alexander, a member of the school twenty years ago, made the closing prayer.

At the morning church service at 10:30 a special musical program was carried out. A quartette sang "Even Me" and just preceding the sermon by the pastor, the Rev. C. M. Yocum, on the subject "Our Inheritance," the choir gave an anthem, "Thou Visitest the Earth" and Hale Pearsey sang a solo, "A Little While."

PHYSICIANS

ENDORSE VINOL
To Create Strength and For Pulmonary Troubles.

Run-down, debilitated people, those who need strength, or who suffer from chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis may find help in these letters.

Dr. C. L. Dreese, Goshen, N. Y., says: "In cases where the curative influence of cod liver oil is needed, I prescribe Vinol, which I find to be far more palatable and efficacious than other cod liver preparations. It is a worthy cod liver preparation in which a physician may have every confidence."

Dr. L. B. Bouchelle of Thomasville, Ga., says: "I have used Vinol in my family and in my general practice with the most satisfactory results. It is exceedingly beneficial to those afflicted with bronchial or pulmonary troubles, and to create strength."

Dr. W. N. Rand of Evans Mills, N. Y., says: "I want to say that I have used and prescribed Vinol in my practice and it will do all you claim for it and more."

Amusements

Announcement is made from the general offices of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company here that the last car out of Indianapolis at 11:30 o'clock will be held each night this week to accommodate people who see "The Whip," a spectacular production current at the Murat theater. It is possible the show will continue later than usual.

The Gem offers a two reel Eclair drama "A Son's Devotion" for the first picture tonight. It is a thrilling picture, telling a story true to life. The father is a gambler and the son discovers a shortage in his accounts, goes to jail for his father. The other is a Joker comedy "Mike and Jake Go Fishing." Tomorrow night the three reel Imp drama "Night Shadows of New York" will be shown.

On Thursday night the Princess will show a two reel special feature that is something out of the ordinary run of pictures. This is a wonderful production as it shows what skill and nerve will do in producing such a picture.

The plot is taken from a circus entering town getting ready for their daily performance when the circus train is wrecked and the wild animals are at large in the town. The people are panic stricken as the animals run wild in the street "Wild Beasts at Large" or "When the Menagerie Broke Loose" is the title of the picture and from it one would think it to be an exciting wild animal story full of blood curdling scenes, but instead a screaming comedy full of laughter and thrilling anticipations.

Owing to the great expense the Management has decided to run a matinee so as to give every one an opportunity to see this wonderful wild animal production.

The price is always the same, five cents always.

Society News

The Royal Neighbors will entertain their families at their lodge room tonight. All officers-elect are urged to be present.

Miss Edna Alice Hardin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hardin, and Wesley D. Lockhart, were married Saturday evening at the Main Street Christian church parsonage by the Rev. C. M. Yocum. The bride is a well known young woman of this city and is a graduate of the local high school in the class of 1913. She is the first member of this class to be married. They will live in this city where he is employed.

RESERVOIR TO BE DRAINED TONIGHT

City Water Will be Shut Off at 9 O'clock in Order to Repair Leak in West Wall.

FIRE ENGINE IN READINESS.

The city water will be shut off tonight at nine o'clock in order that a leak in the big reservoir may be repaired. The wells now being run by electric pumps will continue in operation and the mains will not be entirely dry. The people are asked to be very careful tonight as the city will be protected from fire only by the fire engine. Henry Gregg will be stationed at the fire station and should any calls be received the big engine will be put in operation.

The break in the reservoir is on the west side and enough water is wasted in the course of a day in proportion to what one of the best wells would give. It is feared that a continuance of the leak would cause the reservoir to bulge. The reservoir will be cleaned tonight while the water is out. It is believed that the work can be done in one night.

Attend The Love Feast.

Republicans of Rush county will be interested in the great state meeting of Republicans which is to be held at Indianapolis on Lincoln's birthday, Friday, February 12. This meeting will call together representative Republicans from all over the state. It is the occasion of the thirtieth annual midwinter meeting of the Republican State Editorial association, in conjunction with the Republican state reorganization, love feast and Lincoln league convention. The banquet will be held at the Claypool hotel on the evening of February 12. There will be a few brief talks by representative Republican editors of Indiana, and these will be followed by the chief address of the evening to be delivered by William E. Humphrey, member of congress from Washington. Mr. Humphrey was selected to make this address for two reasons: First, because he is one of the ablest and most popular speakers in congress; and, second, because he is a native Hoosier who has won great success in the far western state of his adoption. The number that can be accommodated at the banquet is necessarily limited. The price of the banquet is two dollars per plate. It is known that Rush county Republicans desire to attend this banquet and those who wish to do so should make the earliest possible reservation of places. Write now and enclose check for $2 to Leo K. Fesler, editor Marion County Mail, Indianapolis. Do not delay until the banquet capacity is all taken. It will do any Republican good to attend this meeting and enjoy this banquet.

ASKS COURT TO NAME RECEIVER

More Trouble for Central Union Telephone Company.

INDIANA PLANT IS INVOLVED

Complaint of a Minority Stockholder, Following Procedure in Court at Chicago a Few Days Ago, Petitions Superior Court at Indianapolis to Take Charge of Property of Central Union Telephone Company in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Feb. 2.—Following suit for a receiver for the Central Union Telephone company property in Indiana, a receivership action in the superior court in Cook county, Illinois, has been filed in superior court here by Christopher Hearn, the owner of one share of stock of the company. He not only asks the appointment of a receiver, but asks the court to restrain officers of the company from making further payments of any kind to the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

About the time the suit was filed here Judge Dever, in the Chicago court, appointed David R. Forgan of that city, Edgar S. Bloom of St. Louis and Frank P. Fowle, an electrical consulting engineer of New York, receivers for the company's property in Illinois. The appointment of receivers there was made on petition of three minority stockholders of the Central Union.

J. W. Stickney, general superintendent of the Central Union company here, and those at the courthouse thought the local receivership suit was an ancillary proceeding to that in Chicago, but Hearn's attorney would not verify that supposition. He said that he knew little about the Chicago proceedings, and the local suit was filed by a minority stockholder on the theory that the company's officers had surrendered control of the property by agreement to the appointment of receivers in Chicago, and that a receiver should be appointed to take charge of the Indiana property.

Hearn's complaint alleges practically the same facts about the relations of the Central Union Telephone company and the American Telephone and Telegraph company as does the suit in Chicago. The American Telephone and Telegraph company is alleged to own $5,204,977 of the $5,450,927 worth of Central Union stock outstanding and by reason of such control to have systematically diverted earnings of the Central Union to its own treasury. It is alleged to have sold instruments and apparatus to the Central Union in 1911 and 1912 for almost $3,000,000 more than what the same would have cost in the open market; to have exacted a payment of 4 1/2 per cent of the Central Union's revenues for various services, and a rental equal to 39 per cent of the value of the telephone sets used by the Central Union.

Another allegation is that the officers of the Central Union recalled a 5 per cent first mortgage bond issue of their company, paying a premium of 5 per cent, to get the bonds and to meet the expenses thus incurred borrowed the money from the American company at 6 per cent.

Judge Rochford ordered the Central Union company to appear and show cause at 10 o'clock Friday morning why a receiver for the Indiana property should not be appointed.

MADE A FRANK CONFESSION

Fort Wayne Telegrapher Tells How He Turned Counterfeiter.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Feb. 2.—"It was idleness that did it," said Kenneth Hendrix, confessed counterfeiter, when he was held under $500 bond for trial before the federal court at Indianapolis. "I haven't been working at my job of telegrapher for the last three months, and as I had been moiding bullets, this led me to think of making counterfeit coins. It was loafing that got me in bad."

Hendrix was arrested on a charge of making and passing counterfeit half dollars. In his hearing before Commissioner Logan he made a complete confession. As he was unable to give bond he was sent back to jail.

Bloody Italian Feud.

Hammond, Ind., Feb. 2.—Two men penetrated to the sleeping room of four Italians in one of the houses of the Standard Steel Car works and killed two men with bullets and also wounded a third. A fourth man escaped by hiding under a bed. The names of the assailants are not known, but the police declare that a feud and not robbery was the motive.

Things "Looking Up" at Gary.

Gary, Ind., Feb. 2.—Conditions in Gary's steel industries have greatly improved during the last week and word was given out by the general managers of the mills in Gary that the local plants would be operating to full capacity by the end of February.

Persons in Rush County Desiring to Take Test May do so at Lafayette, March 20.

The creamery and testers' license law of Indiana, which was passed by the last legislature becomes effective April 1 of this year. Preparations have been made by the Purdue university agricultural experiment station for the taking effect of the law.

The law provides that the testing of milk and cream in Indiana creameries, milk factories, shipping stations, ice cream factories, cheese factories and milk condenseries must be done or supervised by licensed testers. This is of wide importance since the law is applicable to many business institutions in Rush county.

Testers' licenses may be obtained upon presentation by the applicant of a certificate of proficiency, properly filled out and signed by the chairman of the examining board, and upon payment to the chief of the dairy department of the experiment station of the annual license fee of two dollars.

All examinations must be taken at Purdue in Lafayette and in order to accommodate all applicants for examinations promptly, the state has been divided into three sections, alphabetically by counties. The examinations for the counties from R. to W. which includes Rush county, will be held March 20 at 8 a. m.

A special short course of one week, dealing exclusively with instruction in the testing of milk and cream, will be given to applicants who failed to pass the regular examination or who, for other reasons, need special preparation in order to pass the examination. This short course will begin March 23, 1914. At the conclusion of this short course those attending will be given opportunity to take the examination. After next April, examinations will be given on the first Monday of each month till October, 1914. After that, examinations will be given on the first Monday of every other month until further notice.

The Tester's license is valid for one year. It may be renewed without examination on or before April 1 of each year, if the applicant has complied with the rules and regulations under which the license was granted and upon payment of the annual license fee.

The examination will consist of a laboratory exercise in the testing of milk and cream and of a written test covering the subject of composition, sampling and testing of milk and cream.

LOCAL MINISTER ADMITTED TO BAR

Compliment is Conferred Today on The Rev. A. D. Batchelor, Pastor of St. Paul M. E. Church.

FROM FAMILY OF LAWYERS

The Rev. A. D. Batchelor, pastor of the St. Paul M. E. church, was admitted to the bar this morning in the circuit court. He does not intend to practice law, of course, but the admission of the pastor came as a compliment largely because of the fact that his father was an Indiana circuit judge for years and his two brothers are now attorneys.

"I don't intend to get divorces for any people," said the Rev. Mr. Batchelor this morning making facetious comment on the honor paid him.

His father was an attorney for many years at Vernon, Indiana, and presided as judge of the sixth judicial district. Many of the older attorneys here were well acquainted with him. The Rev. Mr. Batchelor has two brothers, George Batchelor, of Indianapolis, and Chester Batchelor, of Seattle, Washington, who are engaged in the practice of law. The former is secretary of the State Bar association. His name was presented by Frank J. Hall, former lieutenant governor. The Rev. Mr. Batchelor was graduated from Indiana university law department.

WILL RUSHVILLE STILL HAVE SHIVERS?

Question Whether Winter Will Continue For Six Weeks Longer is Settled Today.

DID GROUNDHOG SEE SHADOW?

Did the groundhog see his shadow today? That was the foremost question in the minds of Rushville and Rush county people today. Will there be six more weeks of shivers or are balmy days to be expected?

A prehistoric myth says that Brier Groundhog always comes out of his hole February 2, looks about, and if he sees his shadow, crawls back again and remains for six weeks, thus causing winter to remain just that much longer. If Mr. Groundhog timed his entry on stage earth today right, he didn't see his shadow. The sun threatened to appear many times, and finally it did push its way through the clouds.

BOTH SIDES ARE CONFIDENT TODAY

LAW IS NOW BEING ENFORCED

(By United Press.)

Greensburg, Ind., Feb. 2.—When the county commissioners met today it was certain that they would fix a date for a county option election. This date will be in the last week of February or the first three days of March, because of the law which requires such elections not before twenty days and within thirty days of the commissioners' meeting.

"Wet" and "dry" forces were both confident today. The "drys" said that the town was due for a cleaning up—that it had been wide open long enough, and that the saloon business and the gambling reputation must be wiped out. The "wets" said that the present law was being enforced and that there was no need to take advantage of county local option.

Some of the "drys" will admit that the law is now being enforced, but they say Mayor James E. Mendenhall is strict simply because he wants to pacify the "drys," and that the minute the election is over and the liquor interests win, the town will be "as wide open as ever."

Stories are told here in Greensburg that if true would place this little city in a class by itself as far as gambling is concerned. It is common gossip that a clique here does no work during the winter, yet remains most prosperous. It is said they burn the midnight oil around a table and that the "goings-on" are not all above board. Here is a sample of the tales that are told: A group of young bloods from Martinsville, so the story goes, determined to visit Greensburg and take a little easy money, not knowing the reputation of the locals. They came here well enforced with signals, and code, and brought with them, 'tis said, several professionals of the loud vest species. They also brought with them $600.

In five days they returned to Martinsville. It was well they had bought return tickets.

The unwary stranger who sits at table here, 'tis also said, finds himself up against a losing proposition, even though the game is so simple as rummy. Traveling men have been said to wire home for cash from Greensburg.

So the "drys" want to clean up. When the town went "dry" before Mendenhall was mayor. Saloon keepers are quoted as having said they did better business during that period than ever before. Mendenhall said today that if the county went "dry" this time he would sit on the lid in person.

JOE STEWART WAS FINED

Found Guilty of Assault and Battery in Connersville.

Joe Stewart, the local colored boy, who engaged in a fight at Connersville last Tuesday night, was fined five dollars and costs Saturday by Mayor Braun on the charge of assault and battery. It required more than two hours to hear the evidence. Stewart alleged that he did not strike Robbins, the prosecuting witness. Stewart stated that Robbins called him a vile name but that he paid no attention to it. Stewart was first charged with assault and battery with intent to kill but the intent part was dropped when Robbins' condition did not prove serious. The defendant was searched at the jail following the fight but no knife was found.

DECLINES POST IN RUSSIA TODAY

Henry M. Prindel of Peoria Promptly Refuses Embassadorship When it is Tendered to Him.

THE PRESIDENT PRAISES HIM

Washington, Feb. 2.—Henry M. Prindel, of Peoria, Illinois today declined the appointment as ambassador to Russia, to which he was confirmed by the Senate last week. He explained that the controversy preceding the confirmation of his appointment has embarrassed him so that he would not be able to act properly in the position.

The President accepted the refusal to take the appointment immediately and in a letter praised Prindel for his action. It was practically certain today that Charles R. Crane will be appointed to the post. It is understood the President will name Prindel to some important post under his administration.

15,000 REBELS MOVE ON TORREON

If They Capture That Stronghold, They Will Move Immediately on Mexico City, The Final Goal.

HUERTA IS BADLY WORRIED

(By United Press.)

Mexico City, Feb. 2.—Fifteen thousand Rebels today were reported to be advancing on Torreon and if the Rebels capture that stronghold their intention is to move immediately on Mexico City. Carranza, the Rebel leader, issued a secret order in which he said the next monthly meeting of his cabinet would be held in the nearest capital. General Huerta appears to be very ill and looks more worried and worn than he has at any time since he became provisional president. Two leaders in the ranks say that Huerta has promised to leave Mexico and make his home in some European city.

If the Legislature Would Pass a Law---

That every vehicle user in Rush County had to buy his vehicles where he could get the best bargain for his money and leave it to the majority of vehicle users in the county to decide, you would have to buy your next one from us or break the law. There is no question about this, as the majority has already decided we give them more value for their money than they can get elsewhere and have backed up their judgment by buying their vehicles from us. The road service you can get out of one of our buggies makes it an easy proposition for us to sell a customer the second time and also makes it easy for us to sell his neighbors and friends as our vehicle users are always satisfied and make us customers. We still have a few of those nice, roomy Storm Buggies in stock and also have a sample of our 1915 Storm Buggy that you want to see. It is the first Storm Buggy ever built that has sliding doors that can not rattle and also has several new features you want to see. Bring your vehicle business to us no matter what it is and we will take care of it.

The Mystery of the Boule Cabinet

By BURTON E. STEVENSON

Copyright, 1913, by Burton E. Stevenson.

"One risky undertaking is enough for tonight," I said, with a sigh, for my belief in the existence of the secret drawer and the poison and all the rest of it had come back with a rush. "All right," Godfrey said. "But I'll fix this break."

He got out his penknife, loosened two or three of the staples which held the wire in place, drew it out, scraped back the insulation and twisted the ends tightly together.

"There," he added, "that's done. If the invader tampers with the window again he will set off the alarm. But

I saw that the wire had been cut.

I don't believe he'll touch it. I fancy he already knows his little game is discovered."

"How would he know it?" I demanded incredulously.

"If he is keeping an eye on this window, as he naturally would do, he has seen my light. Perhaps he is watching us now. Now for the cabinet." He led the way back upstairs.

Rogers was still sitting dejectedly on the cot, and, looking at him more closely, I could see that he was white and shaken.

"Have you anything to tell us this evening, Rogers?" I asked kindly. But he only shook his head.

"I've told you everything I know, sir," he answered in a low voice.

"Well," I added briskly, "I'll have to ask you to get up. Move the cot away from the door, Parks."

Parks obeyed me with astonished face.

"You're not going in there, sir!" he protested as I turned the knob.

"Yes, we are," I said, and opened the door. "Is—is—"

"No, sir," broke in Parks, understanding. "The undertakers brought the coffin and put him in it and moved him over to the drawing room this afternoon, sir."

"I'm glad of that. I want all the lights lit, Parks, just as they were last night."

Parks reached inside the door and switched on the electric. Then he went away, came back in a moment with a taper and proceeded to light the gas lights. A moment later the lights in the inner room were also blazing.

"There you are, sir," said Parks, and retreated to the door. "Will you need me?"

"Not now. But wait in the hall outside. We may need you."

I led the way into the inner room. "Well, there it is," I said, and nodded toward the Boule cabinet. "It isn't too late to give it up, Godfrey."

"Oh, yes, it is," he said coolly, removing his coat. "It was too late the moment you told me that story. Why, Lester, if I gave it up I should never sleep again! Draw up a chair and watch me."

He pulled back his shirt sleeves and placed his electric torch on the floor beside the cabinet. Then he paused with folded arms to contemplate this masterpiece of M. Boule.

"It is a beauty," he said at last, and then drew out the little drawers, one after another, looked them over and placed them carefully on a chair.

"Now," he added, "let us see if there is any space that isn't accounted for." He took from his pocket a folding rule of ivory, opened it and began a series of measurements so searching and intricate that half an hour passed without a word being spoken. Then he pulled up another chair and sat down beside me.

"I seem to be pretty much up against it," he said, "no doubt just as the designer of the cabinet would wish me to be. The whole bottom of the desk is inclosed, and those three little drawers take up only a small part of the space. Then the back of the cabinet seems to be double—at least, there's a space of three inches I can't account for. So there's room for a dozen secret drawers, if the Montepan required so many. And now to find the combination."

He adjusted the steel gauntlet carefully to his right hand and sat down on the floor before the cabinet.

"I'll begin at the bottom," he said. "If there is any spot I miss, tell me of it."

He ran his fingers up and down the graceful legs, carefully feeling every inequality of the elaborate bronze ornamentation. Then he examined the bottom of the table minutely, using his torch to illumine every crevice, but again without result.

Another half hour passed so, and when at last he came out from under the table his face was dripping with sweat.

"It's trying work," he said, sitting down again and mopping his face. "But isn't it a beauty, Lester? The more I look at it the more wonderful it seems."

"I'd point out one thing to you, Godfrey," I said. "If you go on poking about with the fingers of both hands, as you've been doing, you are just as apt to get struck on the left hand as on the right."

"That's true," he agreed. "Stop me if I forget."

There were three little drawers in the front of the table and these Godfrey had removed. He inserted his hand into the space from which he had taken them and examined it carefully. Then, inch by inch, he ran his fingers over the bosses and arabesques with which the sides and top of the table were incrustated. It seemed to me that if the secret drawer were anywhere it must be somewhere in this part of the cabinet, and I watched him with breathless interest. But no hidden spring was touched; no drawer sprang open; no poisoned fangs descended.

"Well," said Godfrey, sitting back in his chair at last and wiping his face again, "now we'll try the upper part."

The upper part of the cabinet consisted of a series of drawers, rising one above the other and terminated by a triangular pediment, its tympanum ornamented with some beautiful little bronzes. The drawers themselves were concealed by two doors, opening in the center and covered with a most intricate design of arabesqued incrustations.

"If there is a secret drawer here," said Godfrey, "it is somewhere in the back, where there seems to be a hollow space. But to discover the combination—"

He ran his fingers over the inlay, and then, struck by a sudden thought, tested each of the little figures along the tympanum, but they were all set solidly in place.

"There's one thing sure," he said, "the combination, whatever it is, is of such a nature that it could not be discovered accidentally. It is probably a question of releasing a series of levers, which must be worked in a certain order or the drawer won't open. I'm afraid we are up against it."

"I can't pretend I'm sorry," I said with a sigh of relief. "As far as I am concerned, I'm perfectly willing that the drawer should go undiscovered."

I don't know what it was, for I was conscious of no noise, but some mysterious attraction drew my eyes to the window at the farther side of the room. Near the top of the wooden shutter, which Parks and I had put in place, was a small semicircular opening, to allow the passage of a little light, perhaps, and peering through this opening were two eyes—two burning eyes.

They were fixed upon Godfrey, who was now examining the back of the cabinet, with such feverish intusness that they did not see my glance, and I lowered my head instantly.

"Godfrey," I said in a shaking voice, "don't look up, don't move your head, but there is some one peering through the hole in the shutter opposite us."

Godfrey did not answer for quite a minute.

"Did he see you look at him?" he asked at last.

"No; he was looking at you, with his eyes almost starting out of his head. I never saw such eyes!"

"Did you see anything of his face?"

"No; the hole is too small."

"How high is the hole?"

"Near the top of the window."

Godfrey came back to his chair a moment later, sat down in it and passed his handkerchief slowly over his face. Then he leaned forward, apparently to examine the legs of the cabinet.

"I saw him," he said, "or, rather, I saw his eyes. Rather fierce, aren't they?"

"They're a tiger's eyes," I said, with conviction.

"Well, there is no use going ahead with this while he is out there. Even if we found the drawer we'd both be dead an instant later."

"You mean he'd kill us?"

"He would shoot us instantly. Imagine what a sensation that would make, Lester. Parks hears two pistol shots, rushes in and finds us lying here dead. Grady would have a convulsion, and we should both be famous for a few days."

"I'll seek fame in some other way," I said dryly. "What are you going to do about it?"

"We've got to try to capture him, and if we do—well, we shall have the fame all right! But it's a good deal like trying to pick up a scorpion—we're pretty sure to get hurt. If that fellow out there is who I think he is he's about the most dangerous man on earth."

He went on tapping the surface of the cabinet.

"Why can't I go out as though I were

"There is some one peering through the hole."

"Then Parks and I could charge around the corner and get him."

"You wouldn't get him; he'd get you. You wouldn't have a chance on earth. I couldn't help it. I glanced again at the window."

"He's gone!" I cried. Godfrey was at the window in two steps.

I followed the direction of his pointing finger and saw that just opposite the opening in the shutter a little hole had been cut in the window pane.

"That fellow foresees everything," said Godfrey, with enthusiasm. "He probably cut that hole as soon as it was dark. He must have guessed we were going to examine the cabinet tonight, and he wanted not only to see, but to hear. He heard everything we said, Lester!"

"Let's go after him!" I cried. And without waiting for an answer I sprang across the anteroom and snatched open the door which led into the hall.

Parks and Rogers were sitting on the couch just outside.

"There's a man outside. Got your pistol, Parks?" I cried.

"Yes, sir." And he took it from his pocket.

I snatched it from him, opened the front door, leaped the railing and stole along the house to the corner.

Then, taking my courage in both hands, I charged around it.

There was no one in sight, but from somewhere near at hand came a burst of mocking laughter.

Rushville Blaze is Listed Among the Number in Indiana by the State Fire Marshal.

17 FIRES A DAY IN DECEMBER

Hoosier Citizens Pay $8,000,000 a Year For Protection From Fire Losses Longley Says.

Forty hotel fires have been reported to the state fire marshal's office in Indianapolis during the last eight months, and among them was one from Rushville, which caused a loss at the Windsor, according to the weekly bulletin sent out today by State Fire Marshal Longley.

"Carelessness with matches and the careless smoker are the two chief sources of all hotel fires," said the fire marshal. "The way for proprietors to protect their property is for them to guard in every way against fire. In some hotels rubbish is left lying about. Employees are often permitted to smoke, and other hazards to the lives of the occupants are allowed to exist. It is such carelessness that causes the greater part of all Indiana hotel fires."

Due to the efforts of the State Bureau of Inspection, more than 450 hotels in Indiana are now equipped with fire escapes. Many are also provided with fire alarm gongs and other apparatus for communicating with each room in case fire is discovered in any part of the building. The value of a fire alarm in a hotel, can hardly be overestimated, according to the fire marshal, since such systems have in many instances been the sole method by which lives of occupants have been saved.

An average of seventeen fires occurred daily throughout Indiana during December according to reports received at the office. The average loss for each fire was $1,077.37.

For the month preceding, the daily average was practically the same, although the average loss on each fire was only $778.05, a decrease of almost 28 per cent.

More than eight million dollars in insurance premiums is paid by Indiana citizens each year for protecting property from fire. Such is the state fire marshal's estimate of the annual cost of the fire insurance now in force in this state.

"One of the effects of the work of the state fire marshal's office," said the fire marshal, "is sure to be felt in the reduction of insurance rates. The benefits to be derived from fire insurance may be secured by Indiana citizens at much less cost than at present if the proper measure for preventing fire are put in force."

OFFICIALS TO BE FIRST

They Will be Called in Dual Investigations of Strikes.

(By United Press.)
Washington, Feb. 2.—The state and local officials including militia will probably be heard first in the dual investigation of the mine strikes in Colorado and Michigan. Labor leaders will be called. Departure from here Wednesday of both probing subcommittees is planned.

Mrs. Mary Dixon, who has been very sick at her home, corner of Morgan and Fifth streets, is improving.

Catherine Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Watson, is ill with pneumonia at her home in North Main street.

Cullen Sexton, who is attending Military college in Cincinnati, is ill at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Sexton, in North Main street.

JAMES GRANT WILSON

Soldier and Historian Is Dead at His Home in New York City.

New York, Feb. 2.—General James Grant Wilson, who was one of the last of General Grant's staff during the Vicksburg campaign, and well known as an author and historian, is dead of heart disease.

WATER POWER POLICY SURE TO RAISE A ROW

Mr. Wilson Doesn't Agree With Pinchot.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The president will shortly outline his policy relative to the control of water power on navigable streams. Democratic leaders expect the president to take a position on this question that will bring his administration in sharp conflict with the school of conservationists headed by Gifford Pinchot. The president, it is understood, will outline a policy on the water power question favorable to state control of such public works. Unless there is a change of attitude he will express disapproval of the proposal made by Mr. Pinchot and those associated with him, that water power built in streams over which the federal government exercises jurisdiction shall be taxed.

The president will communicate his views to congress on the subject of water power either in a special message or communications addressed to the committees that have jurisdiction over this legislation. Members of these committees have discussed the question with administration leaders, and they predict that when the president makes known his views as to the control of water powers Mr. Pinchot will begin warfare such as was waged with such disastrous political effect to Mr. Taft.

In his recent annual report Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, announced that he was opposed to the federal government taxing water powers.

Foul Play Is Suspected.

Middlesboro, Ky., Feb. 2.—Andrew Turner, one of the leaders of the Turner-Souders feud, which startled this county about thirty years ago, was found dead at Stony Fork Junction. His neck was broken and it is believed that he met with foul play. He was sixty-six years old. The Turner-Souders feud was supposed to have ended twenty-five years ago.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The floods in the state of Bahia, Brazil, are becoming worse, and it is reported that there has been great loss of life.

Representative Ainey of Pennsylvania has announced his candidacy for the regular Republican nomination for senator against Boies Penrose.

Brigadier General Alfred C. Girard, U. S. A., retired, is dead in Washington, following an operation for appendicitis. He was a native of Switzerland and seventy-two years old.

Arreita, the rebel leader at Durango, has issued a proclamation announcing that on the approach of the federals all citizens who are suspected of favoring the latter will be killed without pity.

James Creelman of New York has arrived in Mexico City and is the guest of Judge L. R. Wifley, who is a most bitter enemy of Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires.

Senor Dehesa, former governor of Vera Cruz, who was arrested and taken to Mexico City on a charge of being concerned in a plot against President Huerta, had no trouble in proving his innocence.

Three hundred and two persons were killed by automobiles in New York city during 1913, as against 221 in 1912. During the same period 108 were fatally injured by trolley cars and 132 by wagons in the greater city.

KNIGHTSTOWN MAN IS PLACED IN JAIL

WIFE MAKES THE COMPLAINT

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Newcastle, Ind., Feb. 2.—Al C. Varner, the Knightstown coal dealer, who was fined $400 and sentenced to jail for 60 days by a jury which found him guilty of assault and battery on a young man named Hayes, and whose fine was remitted by Governor Ralston on the recommendation of the prosecutor and several attorneys, was brought to this city Saturday by Deputy Constable Martin of Knightstown and placed in jail because he could not furnish a peace bond. It is alleged by his wife that Varner threatened to kill her. She went to the office of Justice of the Peace Rufus Davis and swore out a warrant against him to keep the peace and Davis bound him over to the circuit court.

What action will be taken against Varner is not known, but it is thought that his case will come before Judge Jackson in circuit court Monday, as the February term opens then.

A petition containing 412 names was filed late Saturday evening with the auditor of Fayette county asking that an option election be called. The commissioner will, probably not act on the petition until the March meeting. The number of names is more than enough required by the law and it is expected that an election will be called.

Sixty-eight took the teachers examination in the examination room at the court house Saturday, instead of sixty-six as was first reported. This is the largest number ever at any single examination. The largest number before this was sixty-two.

SAMPLE MENTIONED.

(Special to the Daily Republican)

Greenfield, Ind., Feb. 2.—Judge Earl Sample is mentioned as a candidate to oppose Congressman Finly H. Gray for the Democratic Sixth district nomination. Judge Sample does not encourage the proposition and has not said whether or not he would accept a nomination. He has been on the bench a year.

NO NEW ONES ARE REPORTED TODAY

Two Canvassing Teams For Cham-
Out Late This Afternoon.

Finding Men Who Are Willing
to Canvass.

The list of the names of the Chamber of Commerce members

It required some time today to get
reorganized on the Chamber of Commerce campaign for members after
teams could start before four
o'clock this afternoon, and for this reason there were no new members
to report today.

Two teams were to go to work
this afternoon at four o'clock which
should insure a favorable report for
tomorrow. There are approximately a hundred prospective members in
the business district who have never
organization.

In addition to those, none of the
manufacturers in the outside districts have been called on by can-
vassers. An automobile party of
canvassers is being organized for
the purpose of giving these men an opportunity to join.

seems to be assured because little opposition has been met with wherever the canvassers have called. The
who are willing to sacrifice some
time to call on men who have not
yet signed an application pledge.

There was only a small crowd at
the noon lunch today, but there are
and work tomorrow afternoon. A number of professional men have
entered heartily into the movement
and there are many others who have
been reported to be in accord with
it, but who have never been seen by
canvassers with application pledges.

today are not the only ones which
have been added to the membership.
There are several which have been reported but which have never been turned in.

Rush Chapter, No. 24, R.
A. M. will hold their regular meeting tonight. The new officers will be installed. A
good attendance is desired.

TAKEN TO MADISON ASYLUM

Horace Hilligoss Now Inmate of
That Institution.

Deputy Sheriff Sullivan, accompanied by Will King, took Horace Hilligoss, who recently became insane in Chicago and was brought
here to the Madison asylum yester-
day. Hilligoss was placed in jail
here one week ago today after he
had terrorized the residents of the northern part of the city. He was
declared insane by a commission
and the papers receiving him to the
Madison asylum were received Saturday. No trouble was had in getting him to the asylum. Hilligoss
believes he is in a large hotel and
likes the place.

HEARING WILL BEGIN TUESDAY

Arbitration of Grievances of I. &
C. Trainmen Will be Taken up
by State Commission.

DATE SET SOME TIME AGO

The hearing to settle the dispute
between the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company and its train-
men will be started before the In-
Indianapolis Tuesday. This date
was set some time ago and preparation has been made by both the
company and the men to present
their side of the case.

It will be recalled that when the
street car strike broke out in Indianapolis, the interurban men all
stuck by their posts. The I & C.
trainmen waited on Charles L.
Henry, president of the I. & C., and
he agreed to arbitration of grievances before the public service commission. The grievances were later
withdrawn because it was felt that
the differences could be settled with-
out presenting the matter to the
state commission. After some discussion, it was found that all the
differences could be arranged satisfactorily for both parties to the
discussion with the exception of the
matter of wages and the question
was again submitted to the com-

The county commissioners met to-
day in the first session of the February term. A few claims were allowed and the bond of Benjamin W.
Black of Washington township,
deputy highway superintendent was
approved. Mr. Black is the first
deputy to be appointed under J. C.
King, the superintendent. The commissioners will let some road contracts tomorrow.

Action Taken in Several Cases on
First Day of New Term.—
Grand Jury Charged.

HEASTON RECEIVED $17.20

Oldest Case on Docket Officially Dismissed When Similar One Was Compromised.

The February term of the circuit
court opened this morning and the
court room was busy for the first
few hours. There were no cases set
for trial and the time was taken up
with the reading of the dockets.
suits.

The case of the Art Stove company against J. E. Patton and Curtis Thrall, doing business under the name of Patton and Thrall, on a
note demanding $175 was dismissed
by the plaintiff company and the
costs paid. Charles A. Frazee, receiver for A. P. Walker filed an inventory appraisal of the property
which was approved by the court.

The case of Edna J. King against
Ralph King for contempt, was dismissed this morning by Mrs. King.
It will be remembered that King,
whose home is in Connorsville, attempted to commit suicide several
weeks ago following his appearance
here before Judge Megee on the charge. He was released under $200 bond and was to have appear-
ed here the last term but was unable
to come. Mrs. King was granted a divorce and given an allowance but
it was alleged that he never paid
the amount according to the order
of the court and the contempt pro-

Clement L. Heaston was given
judgment against Mary G. Jones
and Morris Winship for $17.20 and $15 attorney fees. The case was on
an account and to foreclose a mechanics lien. The case was heard
last term of court by Judge Megee
and taken under advisement. His decision was given this morning. He
Heaston had only $17.20 and his attorney was allowed $15. Heaston
demanded $60.

The case of Claten Mathews, by his next friend Edward Mathews against the C. C. & St. L. railway, demanding damage in the sum
of $15,000 was dismissed. The case
was dismissed some time ago but the
entry was not made until this morning. It should have been taken off
at the time the case of Edward Mathews, as guardian, against the
railway company, was settled for $750. The case has been on the docket since Aug. 29, 1905, and was
the oldest case remaining.

The grand jury reported for duty
this morning and was instructed

Chamber of Commerce is Similar to Bible Story.

Story of Nehemiah Brought Down to
in Sermon Yesterday.

The effort that is at present being
made in this city to organize a Chamber of Commerce was compared
to the building of the wall of Jerusalem, Sunday morning, in a
sermon at the First Presbyterian
church, by the Rev. J. B. Meacham,
when he spoke on "A Fortified City."
It was a timely subject and the work
of Nehemiah and his followers in
building the great wall applied to the
present condition in Rushville.

Nehemiah was a cupbearer to the king of Babylon. He was a captive
Jew, and his heart went back to his
home town and church. He heard
that the remnant of the captivity
who were left in Jerusalem were in
great affliction and reproach because
of the enemy, who had torn down
and destroyed them with fire, leaving
the city without defense. According
to the Bible story, Nehemiah was
given permission to go to Jerusalem
and rebuild the wall. He gathered
about him a small company of men
and called into action those who
surrounding towns and country, to
help on the walls for making a
town.

The response to service was answered by men from all walks of life.
Among those who worked for the
defense of Jerusalem were the
priests, preachers, goldsmiths, drug-
gists, manufacturers, merchants,
gate-keepers, porters, women, politicians and government officials.

"So it is with our city," said the
Rev. Mr. Meacham, "the Chamber of Commerce being formed here should
be backed up by every loyal citizen
who desires to see a bigger, a better
and cleaner Rushville. Each man
was assigned work to do on the
walls of Jerusalem that he was best
fitted to do. Some repairing doors,
some laying beams, others mending
the locks, some mixing mortar, others laying brick, and some cutting
stone.

"Every working party was assigned the task nearest to his home, that
he might help in the building of the
city wall and at the same time carry
on his own business as opportunity
afforded. It was a time when men
of the city and men of the country
put their shoulders to the wheel—
men of the factory, men of different
trades and business, professions and
callings lent a helping hand for the defense of their city.

"There were a few shirkers. It is said that 'the nobles of Tekoah put
not their necks to the work of their
Lord.' There was also opposition
from the enemy round about. The Arabians were very wrath when they saw the old walls going up. They
even went so far as to fight against
Jerusalem and hinder the work.
Some were discouraged at the heavy
task. Judah said, 'the strength of
the bearers of burdens is decayed,
and there is much rubbish, so that
we are not able to build the wall.' In
other words, 'it can't be done.'"

"But Nehemiah and his men were
able to meet the enemy and the ob-
jectors in these words, 'nevertheless
we made our prayer unto our God
and set a watch against them day
and night.' Everyone had his sword

girded by his side and so rebuild-ed." "The result was that the wall was built and joined together without a
breach in it anywhere, and was dedicated for the reason that the people
had a mind to work. What was true
of Jerusalem may be true of every
city, of Rushville, with a united
people—preachers, merchants,
Chamber of Commerce, workmen,
dwellers in the country and dwellers
in the city all united for a better

Israel W. Martin, 93 Years Old, Expires at His Home Here After
Short Illness.

IS VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR

Israel W. Martin, 93 years old, a well known resident of this city died
this afternoon at 1:25 o'clock at his
home in Buena Vista Avenue. Mr.
Martin had been ill only about one
week and because of his advanced
age death was expected. His death
was due to senility. Mr. Martin was
probably the oldest man in this city
if not in the county. He was born
in Lancaster, Ohio, December 1,
here ever since.

He served in the Civil War enlist-
ing in Company K, Fourteenth Ohio
Infantry. After serving two years
he was discharged because of injuries. His wife died several years ago. He is survived by seven children as follows: Miss Clara Martin,
Mrs. Berancy Sears, Mrs. P. J.
Reehling of Alexandria, Ind., Mrs.
Ellen Belford of Pendleton, Mrs. T.
D. Neal of Chicago, Benton Martin

and Court Appoints Farmers
Trust Company.

INDEBTED IN SUM OF $7,500

Alleging that the Rushville
Creamery company is indebted in
the sum of $7,500 and is insolvent,
Jacob Feudner, through his attorney John H. Kiplinger, this afternoon filed suit asking that a receiver
be appointed. The petition was
heard by Judge Megee and the Farmers Trust company was appointed
receiver for the corporation. A. B.
Irvin appeared for the defendant
company and admitted that the allegations of the complaint were true.

It was alleged in the complaint
that the creamery company has no
means of meeting its indebtedness,
which totals $7,500. Mr. Feudner is
a stockholder in the creamery which
is a corporation under the laws of Indiana. It is stated that the creamery has milk and cream on
hands at present and that in order
that these may be turned into money, the receiver will continue to operate the business. The creamery
was organized about a year ago and
the stock is owned by local men. The
company purchased the property,
formerly used for a machine shop
near the C. H. & D. passenger depot and the receivership came as a surprise as it was thought that it
was doing a good business.

OVER 6,000 AT CHURCH SUNDAY

Largest General Attendance at All
Rushville Ever Recorded.

Ministers and Workers Are Gratified
Over the Results Obtained by
Their Efforts.

Approximately six thousand persons attended church in Rushville
yesterday, "Church-going" Sunday.
This is generally estimated the largest general attendance in the
churches here in the history of the
city. The ministers and workers
were very much gratified over the
results of the special efforts to get
people to renew their affiliations
with the church.

The Main Street Christian church
had a total attendance of 2,046 persons at all three services. At the Bible school there were 657, at the
morning church service 759 and at
the evening hour of worship 630.

The attendance at the St. Mary's Catholic church was estimated at
fifteen hundred persons. No count
was made there at the various services.

At the St. Paul M. E. church
there was a total attendance at the
three services of 1,156. The number at the Bible school was counted
at 388 and the morning church service attendance was 489. The evening hour of worship brought out 279.
There were 59 in Will M. Sparks'
men's Bible class.

The count at the first Presbyterian
church showed a total of 608 at the three services yesterday. At the Bible school were 208, at the morning service there were 300 and at
the evening hour of worship 100.

The total attendance at the three
services at the United Presbyterian
church was 508, divided as follows:
Bible school, 168, morning, 175 and
evening 165.

At the three services at the First Baptist church an attendance of 325
was recorded.

The Great Home Month In the Stores

Merchandising custom has
made February the great
"Home Month."

Read the advertising of the
merchants these days in the
live daily newspapers like The Daily Republican and you will
see how vigorously the stores
are pressing their offerings of
goods that have to do with the
furnishing of the home.

Wise homemakers have long
since learned the advantage of
planning their purchasing
along with the tides of the season. It is the policy of
"taking advantage of the market" applied to domestic affairs.

Every member of the family
—big or little, is interested in the home. So at no season of
the year is advertising of
greater importance than right
now.

Those who follow the mercantile announcements in
their daily newspapers will be
certain to buy to greater advantage than those who merely
shop in a haphazard manner.

It is Destined to Come Into More and More General Use Because of Cheapness.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Washington, D. C. Feb. 2.—It is a great mistake to put off working roads until August or September, according to road experts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The roads should be worked when the soil is damp so as to make the soil bake when it dries out. If the roads are worked when they are dry, it takes more power to draw the machine and besides dry earth and dust retain moisture and quickly rot after rains. The use of clods, sods, weeds or vegetable matter in building earth roads should be avoided because they also retain moisture.

If the working of the roads is deferred until the latter part of the summer when the surface is baked dry and hard, they are not only difficult to work, but the work is unsatisfactory when done. Earth which is loose and dry will remain dusty as long as the dry weather lasts, and then turn to mud as the rains begin. By using the road machine in the spring while the soil is soft and damp, the surface is more easily shaped and soon packs down into a dry hard crust which is less liable to become dusty in summer and muddy in winter.

Repairs to roads should be made when needed and not once a year after crops are laid by. Because of its simplicity, efficiency, and cheapness, the split-log drag or some similar device is destined to come into more and more general use. With the drag properly built and its use well understood, the maintenance of earth and gravel roads become a simple and inexpensive matter. Care should be taken to make the log so light that one man can lift it with ease, as a light drag can be drawn by two medium sized horses and responds more readily to various methods of hitching and the shifting position of the operator than a heavier one. The best material for the drag is a dry cedar log, though elm, walnut, box elder or soft maple are excellent. Oak, hickory or ash are too heavy. The log should be from seven to ten feet long, and from eight to ten inches in diameter. It should be split carefully as near the center as possible and the heaviest and best slab chosen for the front. When the soil is moist, but not sticky, the drag does the best work. As the soil in the field will bake if plowed wet, so the road will bake if drag is used on it when it is wet. If the road-day is full of holes or badly rutted the drag should be used once when the road is soft and slushy.

The earth road can best be crowned and ditched with a road machine and not with picks and shovels, scoops, and plows. One road machine with a suitable power and operator will do the work of many men with picks and shovels, and in addition will do it better. If the road is composed of fine clay or soil it will sometimes pay to resurface it with top soil from an adjacent field, which has sand or gravel mixed with it. This method, called the "top soil method," is now unsuccessful in Clarke County, Georgia.

Storm water should be disposed of quickly before it has had time to penetrate deeply into the surface of the road. This can be done by giving the road a crown or slope from the center to the sides. For an earth road which is 24 feet wide the center should be not less than 6 inches nor more than 12 inches higher than the outer edges of the shoulder. The narrow road which is high in the middle will become rutted almost as quickly as one which is too flat for the reason that on a narrow road all the traffic is forced to use only a narrow strip. Shoulders are often formed on both sides of the road, which prevents storm water from flowing into the side ditches, retaining it in the ruts and softening the roadway. These ruts and shoulders can be entirely eliminated with the road machine or split-log drag.

The width of the earth road will depend on the traffic. As a rule, 25 or 30 feet from ditch to ditch is sufficient if the road is properly crowned. Ordinarily the only ditches needed are those made with the road machine which are wide and shallow. Deep narrow ditches wash rapidly, especially on steep slopes. The earth road should not be loosened, dug up, or plowed up any more than is absolutely necessary. It should be gradually raised, not lowered; hardened, nor softened.

PETITION FOR DRAIN.

State of Indiana, Rush County ss.
February Term 1914

Ex Parte—James W. Anderson, et al; Drain.

To Mary L. Dale, Ella Gavin, James Fisher, John B. Harrison, John W. Davis, John E. Harrison and Celista Harrison. John Kinnett as trustee, Anderson township.

You and each of you are hereby notified that the undersigned have filed in the office of the Clerk of the Rush Circuit Court, a petition asking for the drainage of the following described real estate in said County and State, to-wit:—

Eighty (80) acres in the northeast quarter of section sixteen (16) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, being the amount left after twenty (20) acres is taken out of the south side of said quarter section, and twenty-four (24) acres is taken out of the east end and forty (40) acres are taken out of the west end of said Section owned in fee simple, one-third each by James W. Anderson, Mary E. Anderson and Lyle H. Anderson, as joint tenants. Also the north half and the south half of the east half of the Southeast quarter of Section eight (8) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, owned by Ephriam Buell.

Also the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter and the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of Section sixteen (16) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east and the west half of twenty (20) acres off of the entire south end of the Northwest quarter of section sixteen (16) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, and the north half of the west half of the southeast quarter of section sixteen (16) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, belonging to John H. McCorkle.

It is believed that said drainage can be best and most cheaply accomplished by a ditch and drain beginning ten (10) feet east of the northwest corner of the east half of the southeast quarter of section sixteen (16) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east on the land owned by Ella Gavin, thence in a northerly direction onto and across the lands owned by the petitioners herein, James W. and Mary E. Anderson and Lyle H. Anderson to the land of John E. Harrison and Celista Harrison as described herein, thence following as near as practicable the said open drain across the lands of said Harrison onto and across the land of Mary L. Dale as described herein, near to and following said open drain to where it crosses a highway running north and south between sections eight (8) and nine (9) in township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, in said Anderson township, and across highway following said open drain on over and upon the lands of Ephriam Buell, as described herein, to where said open drain empties into Lick Creek on the lands of said Buell.

That said drainage can be best accomplished by using drain tile from the terminus of said drain to its beginning from twelve (12) to sixteen (16) inches in diameter, and that such drain if accomplished will effect the following described tracts of land other than the lands of the petitioners herein, to-wit:—The North half of the West half of the Southwest quarter of Section nine (9) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east owned by John W. Davis. The South half of the West half of the Southwest quarter of section nine (9) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east owned by Mary L. Dale. The North half of the South half of the East half of the Southwest quarter of Section nine (9) township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, each half owned by John B. and Celista Harrison.

ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED

Main Street Christian Church Observes Day With Special Programs at All Services.

Superintendent and Members of First School Take Part in the Services Sunday.

Sunday was a day of reminiscences at the Main Street Christian church because it marked the 20th anniversary of the dedication of the church. Special programs were carried out at all services during the day.

When the Bible school convened, Hugh Mauzy, the superintendent, called on all of the persons in the congregation who were members of the school twenty years ago to stand. There were only a few as the ranks had been thinned in the fifth of a century.

When the classes re-assembled, the superintendent commented on the debt of the present school to the first one, which was small compared to the attendance yesterday. The crowd numbered six hundred and three and the collection was $17.26.

Superintendent Mauzy introduced a member of that school twenty years ago, Mrs. Derby Green, who sang a solo. John A. Spurrier the first superintendent of the Main Street Christian school, made a reminiscent talk concerning the school and the advance it had made. He said that the day the church was dedicated about the largest crowd he had ever seen was present. He recalled the progress that the school had made. Jess Pugh was on the program for a reading, but was unable to appear. William M. Alexander, a member of the school twenty years ago, made the closing prayer.

"Hold Thou My Hand," a duet, was sung by Mrs. Carl F. Behr and Miss Helen Scott at the evening service. The choir sang an anthem, "Like as a Hart" and Mrs. Behr sang a solo, "The Day is Ended," with violin obligato by Orlando Simms. The sermon subject in the evening was "Our Debt to the Church."

Amusements

Announcement is made from the general offices of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company here that the last car out of Indianapolis at 11:30 o'clock will be held each night this week to accommodate people who see "The Whip," a spectacular production current at the Murat theater. It is possible the show will continue later than usual.

The Gem offers a two reel Eclair drama "A Son's Devotion" for the first picture tonight. It is a thrilling picture, telling a story true to life. The father is a gambler and the son discovers a shortage in his accounts, goes to jail for his father. The other is a Joker comedy "Mike and Jake Go Fishing." Tomorrow night the three reel Imp drama "Night Shadows of New York" will be shown.

On Thursday night the Princess will show a two reel special feature that is something out of the ordinary run of pictures. This is a wonderful production as it shows what skill and nerve will do in producing such a picture.

The plot is taken from a circus entering town getting ready for their daily performance when the circus train is wrecked and the wild animals are at large in the town. The people are panic stricken as the animals run wild in the street "Wild Beasts at Large" or "When the Menagerie Broke Loose" is the title of the picture and from it one would think it to be an exciting wild animal story full of blood curdling scenes, but instead a screaming comedy full of laughter and thrilling anticipations.

Owing to the great expense the Management has decided to run a matinee so as to give every one an opportunity to see this wonderful wild animal production.

The price is always the same, five cents always.

Society News

The Royal Neighbors will entertain their families at their lodge room tonight. All officers-elect are urged to be present.

The Cross-country club will meet with Miss Bess Morris Wednesday afternoon. All members are urged to be present.

Three Ladies Aid society of the St. Paul M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Laura Gordon Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Guy Gordon and Mrs. Charles Lyons will assist Mrs. Gordon in entertaining.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McMillin entertained with a week end house party, at their beautiful country home, northeast of Rushville, the following guests: the Misses Alta Demmer, Beatrice Reeve and Marian McMillin, and Messrs. Charles Sherman and Karl Kennedy of this city and Harry McLeary of Richmond.

Miss Edna Alice Hardin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hardin, and Wesley D. Lockhart, were married Saturday evening at the Main Street Christian church parsonage by the Rev. C. M. Yocum. The bride is a well known young woman of this city and is a graduate of the local high school in the class of 1913. She is the first member of this class to be married. They will live in this city where he is employed.

James Anderson, through his attorney, Wallace Morgan, has filed a petition for a drain in the circuit court.

RESERVOIR TO BE DRAINED TONIGHT

FIRE ENGINE IN READINESS.

The city water will be shut off tonight at nine o'clock in order that a leak in the big reservoir may be repaired. The wells now being run by electric pumps will continue in operation and the mains will not be entirely dry. The people are asked to be very careful tonight as the city will be protected from fire only by the fire engine. Henry Gregg will be stationed at the fire station and should any calls be received the big engine will be put in operation.

The break in the reservoir is on the west side and enough water is wasted in the course of a day in proportion to what one of the best wells would give. It is feared that a continuance of the leak would cause the reservoir to bulge. The reservoir will be cleaned tonight while the water is out. It is believed that the work can be done in one night.

THRILLING INCIDENT OF WRECK AT SEA

Rocks Near Falmouth Claim Nineteen Victims.

London, Feb. 2.—In a gale near Falmouth the German bark Hera went on the rocks and nineteen of the crew were drowned. The Hera missed Falmouth in the intense darkness and thick weather, and hit Gull Rock. The bark sent up rockets and the Falmouth lighthouse launched a life boat and started in a tremendous sea to look for the vessel. The bark could not be located for several hours. In the meantime the Hera had heeled over and twenty-one of the twenty-four members of the crew embarked in a boat which soon capsized and only five regained the ship, which already had two feet of water on her deck. The bark suddenly heeled until the mast was almost horizontal. The eight survivors climbed to the topmast and clung there with the waves constantly sweeping over them.

The mate, who was in the lowest position and was lashed to the mast, was drowned by the rising tide. Before he died he passed his whistle, which he had been blowing as the only distress signal, to the man above him. This seaman blew the whistle until he was engulfed in the same way as the mate, when he passed it on to the third man. This man met the same fate, but before he was engulfed passed the whistle to the next man above him. The fourth man was already waist deep in the water when the lifeboat heard the whistle and rescued the five men.

John H. Rogers of Jefferson county will move to the Alva Eakins farm, north of the city. It is planned to raise a large amount of tobacco.

Attend The Love Feast.

Republicans of Rush county will be interested in the great state meeting of Republicans which is to be held at Indianapolis on Lincoln's birthday, Friday, February 12. This meeting will call together representative Republicans from all over the state. It is the occasion of the thirtieth annual midwinter meeting of the Republican State Editorial association, in conjunction with the Republican state reorganization, love feast and Lincoln league convention. The banquet will be held at the Claypool hotel on the evening of February 12. There will be a few brief talks by representative Republican editors of Indiana, and these will be followed by the chief address of the evening to be delivered by William E. Humphrey, member of congress from Washington. Mr. Humphrey was selected to make this address for two reasons: First, because he is one of the ablest and most popular speakers in congress; and, second, because he is a native Hoosier who has won great success in the far western state of his adoption. The number that can be accommodated at the banquet is necessarily limited. The price of the banquet is two dollars per plate. It is known that Rush county Republicans desire to attend this banquet and those who wish to do so should make the earliest possible reservation of places. Write now and enclose check for $2 to Leo K. Fesler, editor Marion County Mail, Indianapolis. Do not delay until the banquet capacity is all taken. It will do any Republican good to attend this meeting and enjoy this banquet.

More Trouble for Central Union Telephone Company.

INDIANA PLANT IS INVOLVED

Complaint of a Minority Stockholder, Following Procedure in Court at Chicago a Few Days Ago, Petitions Superior Court at Indianapolis to Take Charge of Property of Central Union Telephone Company in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Feb. 2.—Following suit for a receiver for the Central Union Telephone company property in Indiana, a receivership action in the superior court in Cook county, Illinois, has been filed in superior court here by Christopher Hearn, the owner of one share of stock of the company. He not only asks the appointment of a receiver, but asks the court to restrain officers of the company from making further payments of any kind to the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

About the time the suit was filed here Judge Dever, in the Chicago court, appointed David R. Forgan of that city, Edgar S. Bloom of St. Louis and Frank F. Fowle, an electrical consulting engineer of New York, receivers for the company's property in Illinois. The appointment of receivers there was made on petition of three minority stockholders of the Central Union.

J. W. Stickney, general superintendent of the Central Union company here, and those at the courthouse thought the local receivership suit was an ancillary proceeding to that in Chicago, but Hearn's attorney would not verify that supposition. He said that he knew little about the Chicago proceedings, and the local suit was filed by a minority stockholder on the theory that the company's officers had surrendered control of the property by agreement to the appointment of receivers in Chicago, and that a receiver should be appointed to take charge of the Indiana property.

Hearn's complaint alleges practically the same facts about the relations of the Central Union Telephone company and the American Telephone and Telegraph company as does the suit in Chicago. The American Telephone and Telegraph company is alleged to own $5,204,977 of the $5,450,927 worth of Central Union stock outstanding and by reason of such control to have systematically diverted earnings of the Central Union to its own treasury. It is alleged to have sold instruments and apparatus to the Central Union in 1911 and 1912 for almost $3,000,000 more than what the same would have cost in the open market; to have exacted a payment of 4 1/2 per cent of the Central Union's revenues for various services, and a rental equal to 39 per cent of the value of the telephone sets used by the Central Union.

Another allegation is that the officers of the Central Union recalled a 5 per cent first mortgage bond issue of their company, paying a premium of 5 per cent, to get the bonds and to meet the expenses thus incurred borrowed the money from the American company at 6 per cent.

Judge Rochford ordered the Central Union company to appear and show cause at 10 o'clock Friday morning why a receiver for the Indiana property should not be appointed.

Fort Wayne Telegrapher Tells How He Turned Counterfeiter.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Feb. 2.—"It was idleness that did it," said Kenneth Hendrix, confessed counterfeiter, when he was held under $500 bond for trial before the federal court at Indianapolis. "I haven't been working at my job of telegrapher for the last three months, and, as I had been making bullets, this led me to think of making counterfeit coins. It was loafing that got me in bad."

Hendrix was arrested on a charge of making and passing counterfeit half dollars. In his hearing before Commissioner Logan he made a complete confession. As he was unable to give bond he was sent back to jail.

Bloody Italian Feud.

Hammond, Ind., Feb. 2.—Two men penetrated to the sleeping room of four Italians in one of the houses of the Standard Steel Car works and killed two men with bullets and also wounded a third. A fourth man escaped by hiding under a bed. The names of the assailants are not known, but the police declare that a feud and not robbery was the motive.

Things "Looking Up" at Gary. Gary, Ind., Feb. 2.—Conditions in Gary's steel industries have greatly improved during the last week and word was given out by the general managers of the mills in Gary that the local plants would be operating to full capacity by the end of February.

Given Indeterminate Sentence.

Indianapolis, Feb. 2.—Herman Haas, former saloon keeper, who was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter on a charge of having murdered his wife, was sentenced to serve two to twenty-one years in the state prison.

PREPARE TO ENFORCE LAW

Dairy Department of Purdue Experiment Station Arranges Examinations For Milk Testers.

ANOTHER OFFICE CREATED

Persons in Rush County Desiring to Take Test May do so at Lafayette, March 20.

The creamery and testers' license law of Indiana, which was passed by the last legislature becomes effective April 1 of this year. Preparations have been made by the Purdue university agricultural experiment station for the taking effect of the law.

The law provides that the testing of milk and cream in Indiana creameries, milk factories, shipping stations, ice cream factories, cheese factories and milk condenseries must be done or supervised by licensed testers. This is of wide importance since the law is applicable to many business institutions in Rush county.

Testers' licenses may be obtained upon presentation by the applicant of a certificate of proficiency, properly filled out and signed by the chairman of the examining board, and upon payment to the chief of the dairy department of the experiment station of the annual license fee of two dollars.

All examinations must be taken at Purdue in Lafayette and in order to accommodate all applicants for examinations promptly, the state has been divided into three sections, alphabetically by counties. The examinations for the counties from R. to W. which includes Rush county, will be held March 20 at 8 a. m.

A special short course of one week, dealing exclusively with instruction in the testing of milk and cream, will be given to applicants who failed to pass the regular examination or who, for other reasons, need special preparation in order to pass the examination. This short course will begin March 23, 1914. At the conclusion of this short course those attending will be given opportunity to take the examination. After next April, examinations will be given on the first Monday of each month till October, 1914. After that, examinations will be given on the first Monday of every other month until further notice.

The Tester's license is valid for one year. It may be renewed without examination on or before April 1 of each year, if the applicant has complied with the rules and regulations under which the license was granted and upon payment of the annual license fee.

The examination will consist of a laboratory exercise in the testing of

milk and cream and of a written test covering the subject of composition, sampling and testing of milk and cream.

LOCAL MINISTER ADMITTED TO BAR

Compliment is Conferred Today on The Rev. A. D. Batchelor, Pastor of St. Paul M. E. Church.

FROM FAMILY OF LAWYERS

The Rev. A. D. Batchelor, pastor of the St. Paul M. E. church, was admitted to the bar this morning in the circuit court. He does not intend to practice law, of course, but the admission of the pastor came as a compliment largely because of the fact that his father was an Indiana circuit judge for years and his two brothers are now attorneys.

"I don't intend to get divorces for any people," said the Rev. Mr. Batchelor this morning making facetious comment on the honor paid him.

His father was an attorney for many years at Vernon, Indiana, and presided as judge of the sixth judicial district. Many of the older attorneys here were well acquainted with him. The Rev. Mr. Batchelor has two brothers, George Batchelor, of Indianapolis, and Chester Batchelor, of Seattle, Washington, who are engaged in the practice of law. The former is secretary of the State Bar association. His name was presented by Frank J. Hall, former lieutenant governor. The Rev. Mr. Batchelor was graduated from Indiana university law department.

WILL RUSHVILLE STILL HAVE SHIVERS?

Question Whether Winter Will Continue For Six Weeks Longer is Settled Today.

DID GROUNDHOG SEE SHADOW?

Did the groundhog see his shadow today? That was the foremost question in the minds of Rushville and Rush county people today. Will there be six more weeks of shivers or are balmy days to be expected?

A prehistoric myth says that Brier Groundhog always comes out of his hole February 2, looks about, and if he sees his shadow, crawls back again and remains for six weeks, thus causing winter to remain just that much longer. If Mr. Groundhog timed his entry on stage earth today right, he didn't see his shadow. The sun threatened to appear many times, and finally it did push its way through the clouds.

(By United Press.)

Greensburg, Ind., Feb. 2.—When the county commissioners met today it was certain that they would fix a date for a county option election. This date will be in the last week of February or the first three days of March, because of the law which requires such elections not before twenty days and within thirty days of the commissioners' meeting.

"Wet" and "dry" forces were both confident today. The "drys" said that the town was due for a cleaning up—that it had been wide open long enough, and that the saloon business and the gambling reputation must be wiped out. The "wets" said that the present law was being enforced and that there was no need to take advantage of county local option.

Some of the "drys" will admit that the law is now being enforced, but they say Mayor James E. Mendenhall is strict simply because he wants to pacify the "drys," and that the minute the election is over and the liquor interests win, the town will be "as wide open as ever."

Stories are told here in Greensburg that if true would place this little city in a class by itself as far as gambling is concerned. It is common gossip that a clique here does no work during the winter, yet remains most prosperous. It is said they burn the midnight oil around a table and that the "goings-on" are not all above board. Here is a sample of the tales that are told:

A group of young bloods from Martinsville, so the story goes, determined to visit Greensburg and take a little easy money, not knowing the reputation of the locals. They came here well enforced with signals and code, and brought with them, 'tis said, several professionals of the loud vest species. They also brought with them $600.

In five days they returned to Martinsville. It was well they had brought return tickets.

The unwary stranger who sits at table here, 'tis also said, finds himself up against a losing proposition, even though the game is so simple as rummy. Traveling men have been said to wire home for cash from Greensburg.

So the "drys" want to clean up. When the town went "dry" before Mendenhall was mayor. Saloon keepers are quoted as having said they did better business during that period than ever before. Mendenhall said today that if the county went "dry" this time he would sit on the lid in person.

JOE STEWART WAS FINED

Found Guilty of Assault and Battery in Connersville.

Joe Stewart, the local colored boy, who engaged in a fight at Connersville last Tuesday night, was fined five dollars and costs Saturday by Mayor Braun on the charge of assault and battery. It required more than two hours to hear the evidence. Stewart alleged that he did not strike Robbins, the prosecuting witness. Stewart stated that Robbins called him a vile name but that he paid no attention to it. Stewart was first charged with assault and battery with intent to kill but the intent part was dropped when Robbins' condition did not prove serious. The defendant was searched at the jail following the fight but no knife was found.

DECLINES POST IN RUSSIA TODAY

Henry M. Prindel of Peoria Promptly Refuses Ambassadorship When it is Tendered to Him.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 2.—Henry M. Prindel, of Peoria, Illinois today declined the appointment as ambassador to Russia, to which he was confirmed by the Senate last week. He explained that the controversy preceding the confirmation of his appointment has embarrassed him so that he would not be able to act properly in the position.

The President accepted the refusal to take the appointment immediately and in a letter praised Prindel for his action. It was practically certain today that Charles F. Crane will be appointed to the post. It is understood the President will name Prindel to some important post under his administration.

15,000 REBELS MOVE ON TORREON

If They Capture That Stronghold, They Will Move Immediately on Mexico City, The Final Goal.

HUERTA IS BADLY WORRIED

Mexico City, Feb. 2.—Fifteen thousand Rebels today were reported to be advancing on Torreon and if the Rebels capture that stronghold their intention is to move immediately on Mexico City. Carranza, the Rebel leader, issued a secret order in which he said the next monthly meeting of his cabinet would be held in the nearest capital.

General Huerta appears to be very ill and looks more worried and worn than he has at any time since he became provisional president. Two leaders in the ranks say that Huerta has promised to leave Mexico and make his home in some European city.

If the Legislature Would Pass a Law---

That every vehicle user in Rush County had to buy his vehicles where he could get the best bargain for his money and leave it to the majority of vehicle users in the county to decide, you would have to buy your next one from us or break the law. There is no question about this, as the majority has already decided we give them more value for their money than they can get elsewhere and have backed up their judgment by buying their vehicles from us. The road service you can get out of one of our buggies makes it an easy proposition for us to sell a customer the second time and also makes it easy for us to sell his neighbors and friends as our vehicle users are always satisfied and make us customers. We still have a few of those nice, roomy Storm Buggies in stock and also have a sample of our 1915 Storm Buggy that you want to see. It is the first Storm Buggy ever built that has sliding doors that can not rattle and also has several new features you want to see. Bring your vehicle business to us no matter what it is and we will take care of it.

The Mystery of the Boule Cabinet

By BURTON E. STEVENSON

Copyright, 1913, by Burton E. Stevenson.

"One risky undertaking is enough for tonight," I said, with a sigh, for my belief in the existence of the secret drawer and the poison and all the rest of it had come back with a rush.

"All right," Godfrey said. "But I'll fix this break."

He got out his penknife, loosened two or three of the staples which held the wire in place, drew it out, scraped back the insulation and twisted the ends tightly together.

"There," he added, "that's done. If the invader tampers with the window again he will set off the alarm. But

I Saw That the Wire Had Been Cut.

I don't believe he'll touch it. I fancy he already knows his little game is discovered."

"How would he know it?" I demanded incredulously.

"If he is keeping an eye on this window, as he naturally would do, he has seen my light. Perhaps he is watching us now. Now for the cabinet."

He led the way back upstairs. Rogers was still sitting dejectedly on the cot, and, looking at him more closely, I could see that he was white and shaken.

"Have you anything to tell us this evening, Rogers?" I asked kindly. But he only shook his head.

"I've told you everything I know, sir," he answered in a low voice.

"Well," I added briskly, "I'll have to ask you to get up. Move the cot away from the door, Parks."

Parks obeyed me with astonished face.

"You're not going in there, sir?" he protested as I turned the knob.

"Yes, we are," I said, and opened the door.

"No, sir," broke in Parks, understanding. "The undertakers brought the coffin and put him in it and moved him over to the drawing room this afternoon, sir."

"I'm glad of that. I want all the lights lit, Parks, just as they were last night."

Parks reached inside the door and switched on the electric. Then he went away, came back in a moment with a taper and proceeded to light the gas lights. A moment later the lights in the inner room were also blazing.

"There you are, sir," said Parks, and retreated to the door. "Will you need me?"

"Not now. But wait in the hall outside. We may need you."

I led the way into the inner room. "Well, there it is," I said, and nodded toward the Boule cabinet. "It isn't too late to give it up, Godfrey."

"Oh, yes, it is," he said coolly, removing his coat. "It was too late the moment you told me that story. Why, Lester, if I gave it up I should never sleep again! Draw up a chair and watch me."

He pulled back his shirt sleeves and placed his electric torch on the floor beside the cabinet. Then he paused with folded arms to contemplate this masterpiece of M. Boule.

"It is a beauty," he said at last, and then drew out the little drawers, one after another, looked them over and placed them carefully on a chair.

"Now," he added, "let us see if there is any space that isn't accounted for."

He took from his pocket a folding rule of ivory, opened it and began a series of measurements so searching and intricate that half an hour passed without a word being spoken. Then he pulled up another chair and sat down beside me.

"I seem to be pretty much up against it," he said, "no doubt just as the designer of the cabinet would wish me to be. The whole bottom of the desk is inclosed, and those three little drawers take up only a small part of the space. Then the back of the cabinet seems to be double—at least, there's a space of three inches I can't account for. So there's room for a dozen secret drawers, if the Montepan required so many. And now to find the combination."

He adjusted the steel gauntlet carefully to his right hand and sat down on the floor before the cabinet.

He ran his fingers up and down the graceful legs, carefully feeling every inequality of the elaborate bronze ornamentation. Then he examined the bottom of the table minutely, using his torch to illumine every crevice, but again without result.

Another half hour passed so, and when at last he came out from under the table his face was dripping with sweat.

"It's trying work," he said, sitting down again and mopping his face. "But isn't it a beauty, Lester? The more I look at it the more wonderful it seems."

"I'd point out one thing to you, Godfrey," I said. "If you go on poking about with the fingers of both hands, as you've been doing, you are just apt to get struck on the left hand as on the right."

"That's true," he agreed. "Stop me if I forget."

There were three little drawers in the front of the table and these Godfrey had removed. He inserted his hand into the space from which he had taken them and examined it carefully. Then, inch by inch, he ran his fingers over the bosses and arabesques with which the sides and top of the table were incrustated. It seemed to me that if the secret drawer were anywhere it must be somewhere in this part of the cabinet, and I watched him with breathless interest. But no hidden spring was touched; no drawer sprang open; no poisoned fangs descended.

The upper part of the cabinet consisted of a series of drawers, rising one above the other and terminated by a triangular pediment, its tympanum ornamented with some beautiful little bronzes. The drawers themselves were concealed by two doors, opening in the center and covered with a most intricate design of arabesque incrustations.

"If there is a secret drawer here," said Godfrey, "it is somewhere in the back, where there seems to be a hollow space. But to discover the combination—"

He ran his fingers over the inlay, and then, struck by a sudden thought, tested each of the little figures along the tympanum, but they were all set solidly in place.

"There's one thing sure," he said, "the combination, whatever it is, is of such a nature that it could not be discovered accidentally. It is probably a question of releasing a series of levers, which must be worked in a certain order or the drawer won't open. I'm afraid we are up against it."

"I can't pretend I'm sorry," I said with a sigh of relief. "As far as I am concerned, I'm perfectly willing that the drawer should go undiscovered."

I don't know what it was, for I was conscious of no noise, but some mysterious attraction drew my eyes to the window at the farther side of the room. Near the top of the wooden shutter, which Parks and I had put in place, was a small semicircular opening, to allow the passage of a little light, perhaps, and peering through this opening were two eyes—two burning eyes.

They were fixed upon Godfrey, who was now examining the back of the cabinet, with such feverish intensity that they did not see my glance, and I lowered my head instantly.

"Godfrey," I said in a shaking voice, "don't look up, don't move your head, but there is some one peering through the hole in the shutter opposite us."

Godfrey did not answer for quite a minute.

"Did he see you look at him?" he asked at last.

"No; he was looking at you, with his eyes almost starting out of his head. I never saw such eyes."

"Did you see anything of his face?"

"No; the hole is too small."

"How high is the hole?"

"Near the top of the window."

Godfrey came back to his chair a moment later, sat down in it and passed his handkerchief slowly over his face. Then he leaned forward, apparently to examine the legs of the cabinet.

"I saw him," he said, "or, rather, I saw his eyes. Rather fierce, aren't they?"

"They're a tiger's eyes," I said, with conviction.

"Well, there is no use going ahead with this while he is out there. Even if we found the drawer we'd both be dead an instant later."

"You mean he'd kill us?"

"He would shoot us instantly. Imagine what a sensation that would make, Lester. Parks hears two pistol shots, rushes in and finds us lying here dead. Grady would have a convulsion, and we should both be famous for a few days."

"I'll seek fame in some other way," I said dryly. "What are you going to do about it?"

"We've got to try to capture him, and if we do—well, we shall have the fame all right! But it's a good deal like trying to pick up a scorpion—we're pretty sure to get hurt. If that fellow out there is who I think he is he's about the most dangerous man on earth."

He went on tapping the surface of the cabinet.

"Why can't I go out as though I were

There is some one peering through the hole.

"Then Parks and I could charge around the corner and get him."

"You wouldn't get him; he'd get you. You wouldn't have a chance on earth. I couldn't help it. I glanced again at the window."

"He's gone!" I cried.

Godfrey was at the window in two steps.

I followed the direction of his pointing finger and saw that just opposite the opening in the shutter a little hole had been cut in the window pane.

"That fellow foresees everything," said Godfrey, with enthusiasm. "He probably cut that hole as soon as it was dark. He must have guessed we were going to examine the cabinet tonight, and he wanted not only to see, but to hear. He heard everything we said, Lester!"

"Let's go after him!" I cried. And without waiting for an answer I sprang across the room and snatched open the door which led into the hall.

Parks and Rogers were sitting on the couch just outside.

"There's a man outside. Got your pistol, Parks?" I cried.

"Yes, sir." And he took it from his pocket.

I snatched it from him, opened the front door, leaped the railing and stole along the house to the corner.

Then, taking my courage in both hands, I charged around it.

There was no one in sight, but from somewhere near at hand came a burst of mocking laughter.

Rushville Blaze is Listed Among the Number in Indiana by the State Fire Marshal.

17 FIRES A DAY IN DECEMBER

Hossier Citizens Pay $8,000,000 a Year For Protection From Fire Losses Longley Says.

Forty hotel fires have been reported to the state fire marshal's office in Indianapolis during the last eight months, and among them was one from Rushville, which caused a loss at the Windsor, according to the weekly bulletin sent out today by State Fire Marshal Longley.

"Carelessness with matches and the careless smoker are the two chief sources of all hotel fires," said the fire marshal. "The way for proprietors to protect their property is for them to guard in every way against fire. In some hotels rubbish is left lying about. Employees are often permitted to smoke, and other hazards to the lives of the occupants are allowed to exist. It is such carelessness that causes the greater part of all Indiana hotel fires."

Due to the efforts of the State Bureau of Inspection, more than 450 hotels in Indiana are now equipped with fire escapes. Many are also provided with fire alarm gongs and other apparatus for communicating with each room in case fire is discovered in any part of the building. The value of a fire alarm in a hotel, can hardly be overestimated, according to the fire marshal, since such systems have in many instances been the sole method by which lives of occupants have been saved.

An average of seventeen fires occurred daily throughout Indiana during December according to reports received at the office. The average loss for each fire was $1,977.37.

For the month preceding, the daily average was practically the same, although the average loss on each fire was only $778.05, a decrease of almost 25 per cent.

More than eight million dollars in insurance premiums is paid by Indiana citizens each year for protecting property from fire. Such is the state fire marshal's estimate of the annual cost of the fire insurance now in force in this state.

WATER POWER POLICY SURE TO RAISE A ROW

Mr. Wilson Doesn't Agree With Pinchot.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The president will shortly outline his policy relative to the control of water power on navigable streams. Democratic leaders expect the president to take a position on this question that will bring his administration in sharp conflict with the school of conservationists headed by Gifford Pinchot. The president, it is understood, will outline a policy on the water power question favorable to state control of such public works. Unless there is a change of attitude he will express disapproval of the proposal made by Mr. Pinchot and those associated with him, that water power built in streams over which the federal government exercises jurisdiction shall be taxed.

The president will communicate his views to congress on the subject of water power either in a special message or communications addressed to the committees that have jurisdiction over this legislation. Members of these committees have discussed the question with administration leaders, and they predict that when the president makes known his views as to the control of water powers Mr. Pinchot will begin warfare such as was waged with such disastrous political effect to Mr. Taft.

In his recent annual report Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, announced that he was opposed to the federal government taxing water powers.

Foul Play Is Suspected.

Middlesboro, Ky., Feb. 2.—Andrew Turner, one of the leaders of the Turner-Souders feud, which started this county about thirty years ago, was found dead at Stony Fork Junction. His neck was broken and it is believed that he met with foul play. He was sixty-six years old. The Turner-Souders feud was supposed to have ended twenty-five years ago.

Newcastle, Ind., Feb. 2.—Al C. Varner, the Knightstown coal dealer, who was fined $400 and sentenced to jail for 60 days by a jury which found him guilty of assault and battery on a young man named Hayes, and whose fine was remitted by Governor Ralston on the recommendation of the prosecutor and several attorneys, was brought to this city Saturday by Deputy Constable Martin of Knightstown and placed in jail because he could not furnish a peace bond. It is alleged by his wife that Varner threatened to kill her. She went to the office of Justice of the Peace Rufus Davis and swore out a warrant against him to keep the peace and Davis bound him over to the circuit court.

What action will be taken against Varner is not known, but it is thought that his case will come before Judge Jackson in circuit court Monday, as the February term opens then.

A petition containing 412 names was filed late Saturday evening with the auditor of Fayette county asking that an option election be called. The commissioner will, probably not act on the petition until the March meeting. The number of names is more than enough required by the law and it is expected that an election will be called.

Sixty-eight took the teachers examination in the examination room at the court house Saturday, instead of sixty-six as was first reported. This is the largest number ever at any single examination. The largest number before this was sixty-two.
